Description

The Foscarini Rituals Tavolo 2 is a modern table lamp that recalls in its easiness of a lantern. Through a complicated process gets the blown glass diffuser a unique stripe effect that is reminiscent of the Wagashi Paper oriental lanterns.

Thus the light emits a pleasant, diffused light into the room. An not-dimmable version and a Dimmer version are available, both usable with halogen or compact fluorescent lamps.

The base of Foscarini Rituals Tavolo 2 is made of painted metal and forms a good contrast to white striped diffuser. Foscarini has made this family with three more table lamps which differ in the shape of the diffuser, and four pendant lights.

Particularly in combination with other lamps in the Rituals series the light acts well. It is the smallest of this table lamps series.
